Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 28 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
After a fine start heavy rain will arrive this afternoon.

Today:
A bright start to the day with some pleasant morning sunshine. Clouding over into the afternoon with long periods of rain developing, heavy at times. A breezy day and continuing to feel much cooler than of late. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Heavy rain clearing eastwards this evening with most parts dry by midnight. However, further showers are possible after midnight, especially in the west. Clear spells developing in the east. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Wednesday:
A bright start to the day further east, however cloud and showers in the west will become more widespread, though there will still be lengthy sunny spells, especially later. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A very unsettled spell of weather with showers or longer spells of rain, these sometimes heavy or thundery. Temperatures slightly below average. Windy, with gales over the hills at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.